ATKINS — HEANSKI.

A 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, October 2nd, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Atkins was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when their daughter May was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Frank Albert Heanski, only son of Mr. J. P. Heanski, of Los Angeles, California. The bride looked sweet in ivory satin with rose trimmings, wearing a Juliet veil. She carried twenty-three white carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Ruth Atkins, looked charming in white silk, and carried pink sweet peas, Mr. Jack Cole, of Maple Creek, Sask., supported the groom. The bride party entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The two little flower girls looked sweet in pure white, both came in unadorned white ribbons. Hilda Hart carried a basket of sweet peas and strewn the bride's path with blossoms. Edna Strong carried the ring on a bunch of asters. Next came the bride, followed by the bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Armstrong, of Red Deer. The group stood under an arch of evergreen boughs and roses, under which was suspended a large and beautiful garland. The groom's gift to the bride was a lovely gold wrist watch and a sunburst of pearls brooch, to the bride—gold jewelry, a ring set in diamonds. To the groomsmen a watch and a ring, to the flower girl a pearl necklace. About forty guests were served at an elaborate luncheon. The bride was the recipient of a number of beautiful presents. The happy couple left under the stars, and the bride and groom were seen in the distance.

GEORGE — TAYLOR.

On October 7th, at St. Paul's Cathedral, Halifax, Henry Bernard George, "H.C.M.S. Noble," eldest son of Capt. Henry George, C.A.M.C., Red Deer, to Isabel Taylor, youngest daughter of Mrs. Taylor, of Banff, Alberta.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUB

I have now received back from the members a large number of the envelopes, and I should be glad if those members who have not sent them in yet to do so as soon as possible. I hope that all members will show their gifts without fail even if they do not expect to win. It is one of the rules of the Club that all members should, as the Fair is really the final event of the season, work when all members should get together.

The Farmers' Advocate and Home Journal, Winnipeg, advise me that they are offering prizes to members of the club who will write up in five or six hundred words, for the purpose of these competitions is divided into two parts. The prizes are given not to cover one Club necessity, but several Clubs with a given number of members. The prizes for the Club there must be some boys and girls who get good marks for composition at school, and who will help with the events on Fair day and try their hands at writing an account. The essays are to be advanced by the Boys' and Girls' Club Branch, but if members would hand in their essays to me as soon as possible, after Fair day, I would send them down together to the Farmers' Advocate and Home Journal. I know that the members will prove they can raise good pigs. It would also be nice for them to show that they can write good compositions. I am sure all members and also their parents will be glad to learn that Prof. Hutton, of the Experimental Farm, Lacombe, has promised to act as judge. Prof. Elliott, of Olds Agricultural College, who helped the club in organizing and in many other ways, will also be present.

Manager, Boys & Girls Club.

He has been teaching in the South country, and will attend lectures at the Alberta University, as he was in second year work when he joined up with the forces.

Corp. Harold Haste, who went over with the 18th, returned to Red Deer early on Monday morning. Harold was wounded last January in the left arm with shrapnel, and the nerve was cut. It will be a long time before he will be able to use the hand again. He is looking well and hearty.

Geo. Mahen of North Red Deer, was reported dangerously wounded, in a wire received by his relations a few days ago.

Roy Warner, of North Red Deer, was reported wounded a few days ago.

COMPLETE LINE OF DEFENCE IS CRUMPLED UP

Entire Hindenburg System Near Fresno is Broken

With the British Army in the St. Quentin Sector, Oct. 3.—British forces have broken through the Hindenburg defense system in the neighborhood of Fresno today. As soon as the break had been made, cavalry forces were sent through, and were closely by tanks and armored cars. Allied airplanes which have been flying low over the country in the rear of the Hindenburg line report that there are only two or three things held and hurriedly built trench lines in front of the advancing British.

This is a perfect country for cavalry, and the British are advancing. The enemy's lines, the entire German positions north and south of St. Quentin are gravely menaced. After the capture of the Hindenburg line, into the open country behind the Hindenburg line, infantry and masses of machine guns poured down upon the German positions. In taking positions and the Germans who have held their lines in the defensive system are in danger of being cut in.

IN FULL FLIGHT.

The enemy appears to be in full flight north of the break in the line. Allied patrols have penetrated further into the German lines, and the Germans seem to be withdrawing.

Prisoners from ten German divisions and forty-one battalions were taken through the breach in the Hindenburg system about motor buses. Many of these vehicles are said to be double deckers which used to run the streets of London. They are able to follow the cavalry closely.

BECOMING MORE ALARMED

French headquarters in France, Oct. 4.—With the British and Allies along the front from the Aisne to the Meuse, the Germans are daily becoming more alarmed over their situation in central Champagne between Rheims and Moronvillers heights. All the enemy troops which have appeared in this battlefield have been driven back, and have fought with the utmost tenacity. The sole exception to this rule was the 10th Bavarian division, which was withdrawn after a single day's fighting.

None but first class troops are of any value between the Suippe river and the Argonne forest because the Germans can not abandon them without the greatest risk. Allied forces are daily nearing the lateral railways which permit the enemy to move his reserves from point to point. During the past two days the advance has made his route from his headquarters to the front, and is less except by night. His next line of communication is 12 miles to the north.

In this sector, however, the Allies have to deal with the German Crown Prince.

Paris, Oct. 4.—French troops in the St. Quentin sector have advanced east of Ledine, says the war office statement today.

American and French troops in Champagne have made further advances northwest of Blanc Mont and Meudon farm.

North and northwest of Rheims the French have increased their gains somewhat and improved their positions in the region of Betheny. One hundred prisoners remained in our hands.

ROLL OF HONOR

Lieut. Roy Buchanan, brother of Hon. W. A. Buchanan, of Lethbridge, has been killed in action.

The dreadnought came through to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hey on Sunday that their son, Lieut. "Monty" Hey, who only recently had been granted a commission in the Royal Air Force, was missing. He went over with one of our infantry battalions, and after seeing considerable service at the front, was wounded, and while in England was allowed to join the R.A.F., and only recently completed his course.

A special Thanksgiving service was held at St. Paul's Cathedral, Anglican Church, at a very large attendance. The service was conducted in hearty with the special psalms and hymns. Mrs. J. J. Johnson presided at the organ. The church was very nicely decorated. Rev. Currie, of Pine Lake was to have given the address but was unable to be present.

HULL, 1916:

With a Comment from Broadway, New York.

(By HAROLD BRIGHOUSE).

"His Majesty the Kaiser and King degli Despatches in the misfortune which has befallen the open town of Frankfurt, as the result of the enemy air attack, which is contrary to international law."

Thus the "Kaiser's telegram in respect to Frankfurt," which was hotly defended by anti-aircraft guns and aeroplanes, on the occasion of a recent attack by the H.A.F. Independent Force, upon its munition factories and railway junctions.

After all these years of bombing, the Kaiser professes regret and sympathy. But it was the Kaiser's own Zepplins which attacked the literally open town of Hull on the night of March 19th, 1916, and the story of the raid may be recalled to him since he now poses as an offended authority on international law. The bombing of Hull, however, was then still a new thing in the world; a demonstration of the Kaiser's Kultur for which nobody had been prepared.

Hull was completely undefended; Frankfurt was completely defended. Bombs were rained broadcast on Hull; at Frankfurt the Independent Force of the R.A.F. as always, pick of out targets which were legitimate military objectives. Their raid was not a tropical, either in the punitive or the preventive sense. It was a military raid for the purpose of establishing a precedent.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

The new term at the University of Alberta has opened with a good deal of enthusiasm on the part of both professors and students. The corridors of the Arts building are thronged with young men and women eager to begin their studies.

The Victoria winter work, and the registrar's staff are busy from early morning to late at night, enrolling students and giving advice on the subject of their studies. The new department of household science, a course which promises to be very popular, has been started. The department is offered to students in the senior years, who may take Household Science as one of their subjects.

The ship which had been captured at Sarcee Camp are being sent to the University of Alberta to proceed with their medical studies.

The Victory League, a committee of Edmonton is securing a number of reels of film, Pathoscope size, prepared specially for use in connection with the Victory League campaign.

The Department of Extension of the University, which conducts a moving picture film service throughout the province, will work with the committee by circulating the Victory League films among those who own the Pathoscope machines sold by the University.

On Tuesday evening Mr. C. E. Race, registrar of the University, met and enrolled a number of law students. The "Victory League" has been drawn up and posted on the student's bulletin board in the Court House. Mr. Kent Power, registrar of the University, is in charge of the program for law students in Calgary.

An increase in the number of women students from out of town has made it necessary to turn Alhambra Hall into a women's residence.

The Victoria League will be used as the men's residence.

It is expected that the University of Alberta will co-operate with the Dominion government in the re-education in agricultural subjects of returned soldiers. Details of the arrangements for this work will be ready for publication in the near future.

Dr. Tury will probably spend some time in Edmonton during the autumn. The date of his arrival is not yet definitely known.

The Sunday morning services at the University of Alberta, will be continued on October 13th. Dr. Tury, acting president, will conduct the service and preach the sermon on that occasion.

HIS VIEW.

"Well!" said an artist, as his critical friend fixed his eyes and examined a just finished picture. He went close to it, then moved away from it, then viewed it from the southwest corner, then tried it from the northeast wall.

"That's good," he finally said. "Distinctly good! One of the best pictures of a coal mine I've ever seen! Perhaps the lighting—"

"Coal mine?" cried the artist. "Coal mine!" He glared at the critic and clenched his hands. "It's a bird's eye view of Eastbourne. You, 'oh, am I' retorted the critic. "Well, that may be. But let me tell you, if that picture represents a coal mine, I'm not a bird."

A GHASTLY REVELATION

The dastardly way in which the Hun treat prisoners of war is described in a recent letter to the British press from the son of the Earl of Erroll, Lieut. the Hon. Ivan Hay, captured in the early days of the war. Lieut. Hay and four other British prisoners, with some sixty French, were marched into Le Caumont and halted there, under a strong guard. For three days they were kept in the main street. A French officer, being picked with a bayonet by a German under-officer, grasped it to save himself, whereupon the guard fired four rounds rapidly into the line of prisoners, whom they were "practically touching" with their rifle muzzles. Eleven Frenchmen were killed instantly, and as many seriously wounded, all Lieut. Hay's English companions fell; the French officers, practically all dead, with bullets, died instantly, and those of the guard near him "again and again plunged their bayonets into the bodies of the French officers, who survived by a miracle, was marched off to Mons with a large party of British and French prisoners. Having in view the importance of leaving a sufficient number of men on those farms, which are actually contributing to the National Food Supply, notice is hereby given as follows:

1. ALL MEMBERS OF CLASS I POSSESSING EXEMPTION AS FARMERS which is expiring and WHO WISH TO REMAIN EXEMPT should communicate with the Registrars under the M.S.A. of their respective districts, REQUESTING AN EXTENSION IN TIME OF SUCH EXEMPTION. Questionnaires will thereupon be issued to these men by the Registrar and they will receive further exemption upon furnishing satisfactory proof that they are contributing sufficiently to the National Food Supply.

2. In order to facilitate productive employment during the Winter months, MEN EXEMPTED AS FARMERS SHOULD APPLY TO THE REGISTRARS FOR PERMITS TO ENGAGE FOR THE WINTER IN SOME OCCUPATION OF NATIONAL INTEREST, SUCH AS LUMBERING, MINING, MILLWORK, ETC. Such permits will serve to enable exempted farmers to pursue other useful occupations for the months during which farming operations cannot be carried on.

NEW FRANCO AMERICAN DRIVE

TWELVE TOWNS WERE CAPTURED AND OVER 5000 PRISONERS TAKEN

Paris, Sept. 27.—Successful development of the French offensive began yesterday in the Champagne region, reported today by the French office. Over the entire field of attack by the French between the Sulpice river and the Argonne Forest, the formidable German positions of a depth of more than three miles were brilliantly carried.

The French have captured the Butte du Mesnil, the Butte du Souff, the Butte du Tabour, and the villages of Tahure, Ripont, Rouvray, Cernay-en-Dormois and Servon-Metzcourt.

More than 7000 prisoners were taken by the French.

The French forces resumed their attack this morning and despite unfavorable conditions satisfactory progress is being made.

London, Sept. 27.—Twelve towns and more than 5,000 German prisoners have been taken by American troops, fighting in conjunction with French, in a new offensive begun at break of day Thursday in the region extending from the northwest of Verdun to within fifteen miles of the cathedral city of Rheims.

The Americans advanced to a depth of seven miles, overcoming the stubborn resistance of the enemy. Pennsylvania, Kansas, and Missouri troops were among the fighting forces, which in less than a day won territory of great importance to the enemy and further depleted his army through men captured or killed or wounded.

American troops have taken over a new sector in France, and in conjunction with the French have forced the Germans on the defensive on still another battlefield.

The gap of battle has been thrown down on a forty-mile front, extending from the Sulpice river, Champagne, fifteen miles east of Rheims eastward through the Argonne forest to the Meuse river, northwest of Verdun.

GAIN FROM FOUR TO SIX MILES

In the first stages of the battle, the Allied lines were rushed forward for material gains—that portion immediately northwest of Verdun held by the Americans to a depth of from five to six miles and that of the French to the west nearly four miles at certain points.

Under the terrific bombardment preceding the commencement of the battle, the Germans hurriedly quit numerous positions, and into these the Americans and French went unimpeded. At last accounts the Allied attack was progressing satisfactorily. Many French villages and German strong points had been captured.

Taken in conjunction with the Allied offensive which has materially bent back the German front in Flanders, Artois and Picardy and along the Aisne, the new drive at the Marne-Poche in the south will bear important fruit if it meets with success. Driving northward the entire western battlefield would be shaken and necessarily be compelled to readjust itself. Lateral railway lines of great importance to the German positions between Leon and Verdun lie directly in the path of the advancing Franco-American forces. Vouziers, an important railway junction on the main line from Leon to Metz, is but twelve miles north of Servon, which already is in the hands of the French.

AMERICANS IN MEUSE VALLEY

The American through the capture of Gercourt, northwest of Verdun, are in the Meuse valley, which leads northward to Sedan, and a little further west at Varennes, have won the Avre valley, which winds in a north-westerly direction. A successful advance along these two valleys for any appreciable distance would be disastrous to the German line from the North sea to the Swiss frontier. Frontiers of Verdun, Mont Facon, a German stronghold of great resisting power, is, said to be in American hands, as likewise are several other villages between the Meuse and the Avre.

Around St. Quentin, both the British and French armies have made further progress against the Germans and repulsed heavy counterattacks. In Flanders and also near Arras the British have advanced their fronts.

SOME SURPRISE ELEMENT

With the American army on the Champagne front, Sept. 27.—The assumption of the general staff that the Germans had not discovered the intentions of the Americans to attack was proved by the earlier phases of the fighting. Apparently dazed by the suddenness and ferocity of the artillery preparation, the German artillery reaction was slow in being registered. It never recovered its balance. From the "rattle" of the machine guns swarmed forward, the inferiority of the enemy resistance was marked. Early in the morning the enemy had laid down artillery fire calculated to cover a local road. That incident was quickly forgotten in the magnitude of the operations that followed.

One division reports the capture of twenty 75-mm and plentiful supplies of ammunition. The check of the amount of booty has not yet been taken, but every report indicates that the amount of it will be large.

Officer prisoners show that there was much enemy anxiety to the exact point of attack, but say they were aware that one was impending.

FIFTEEN SPANISH INFLUENZA CASES COME TO CALGARY

ONE OFFICER AND FOURTEEN PRIVATES TAKEN FROM C.P.R. TRAIN FROM EAST

INFLUENZA WARNING

Keep feet and clothing dry. Avoid crowds. Protect your nose and mouth in the presence of sneezers. Gargle your throat three times a day with a mild antiseptic, if only salt and water. Don't neglect a cold. Keep as much as possible in the sunshine. Don't get "scared."

The first visitation of the Spanish influenza epidemic in Calgary took place early Wednesday morning, when a C.P.R. train arriving from the east unloaded 15 soldiers here suffering with the affliction. All were conveyed to the Calgary Isolation hospital.

A number of men stricken with the trouble had been removed from the train at a Saskatchewan point, and health officials there telegraphed ahead informing the local authorities of the situation. Dr. C. S. Mahood, Calgary, medical health officer took steps immediately to deal with the situation, and personally went to the station to meet the train. The military authorities provided Dr. Mahood with a military guard, which surrounded the train when it pulled in at 3 o'clock this morning, and no one was allowed on or off except the patients and medical officers.

ONLY ONE STRETCHER CASE

The 15 sufferers included one officer and 14 men, but all of them were able to walk except one, who was carried out on a stretcher. No other passengers for this city were aboard the train.

The medical authorities say there is no occasion for anyone to be alarmed, as the patients will all be kept in the most strict isolation. The train was kept at the station three hours while Dr. Mahood personally supervised the transfer of the sick men and the fumigation of all their baggage, as well as the fumigation of the cars in which the men were travelling.

TEN MORE AT MONTREAL

Montreal, Oct. 2.—The city medical health officer this morning reports ten more deaths from Spanish influenza.

TURKEY TALKING SEPARATE PEACE

Lausanne, Switzerland, Sept. 27.—Public irritation in Constantinople has become so great, according to a dispatch from the Turkish capital to the Lausanne Gazette, that rumors are again spreading that the Ottoman government will seek a separate peace. The Sultan himself, the message says, would favor a separate peace if he could obtain favorable conditions from the Entente powers.

MALINOFF GIVES PEACE TERMS

Paris, Oct. 2.—Premier Malinoff appeared before the Bulgarian parliament on Monday and read the speech from the throne which was postponed at the first sitting last Friday, according to advices from Sofia by way of Basel.

M. Malinoff, according to German papers, said that the Bulgarian king and government intended only to fulfill their duty toward the fatherland in making an honorable peace that was worthy of the sacrifices which had been made. The reason for this step, M. Malinoff said, was the general situation which confronted the country.

PEACE WITH BULGARIA

Saloniki, October 1.—The following statement was issued at the Greek headquarters last night: "Greek troops have continued their advance in pursuit of the enemy, in the region to the north of Vele, they have occupied the heights north of Yenikoy and the slopes dominating Saloniki."

At the allied headquarters the following statement was issued: "By virtue of the terms of the convention signed at 10 o'clock, a.m. Sept. 23, hostilities against the Bulgarians ceased at noon to-day."

ANTI-GERMAN RIOTING BEGINS.

Paris, Oct. 2.—Anti-German and pacifist riots are in progress throughout Bulgaria, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Journal. It is stated that rumors are current of the formation of a national cabinet in Bulgaria under the leadership of Premier Malinoff and Dr. Ghenadiev, released from prison a few days ago under a pardon by King Ferdinand.

TURKEY IS CENTRE OF INTEREST NOW

WITH BULGARIA OUT OF THE WAR INTEREST FOCUSES ON THE TURK

London, Sept. 30.—With Bulgaria out of the war through the armistice convention signed on Sunday, involving her complete surrender, interest in the Near Eastern situation is being focused on Turkey. It is noted that Andrew Bonar Law, the chancellor of the exchequer in his dispatch to the House of Commons, made a remark referring to the defeat of the Turkish Palestine army at Gen. Allenby's hands, adding, "and something more is going to follow." Later in his speech he said, also cryptically, touching on the control of Bulgaria which the control of her railways will give.

"In that there was something in connection with Turkey which I cannot say, but which we can all think."

Mr. Bonar Law's words were almost drowned by cheers, but the impression created was that Turkey would follow Bulgaria's lead.

There was a deep satisfaction in London over the day's developments but no excitement and no demonstrations.

The German army, it is pointed out, is yet a great army and as yet undefeated. There is stern work ahead, and any relaxation of effort should not take place.

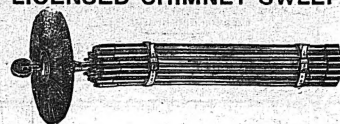

According to Vienna messages, Emperor Charles is to issue a manifesto to his people tomorrow, and it is felt that this must be an utterance of historic importance.

TWO SUBMARINES ARE DESTROYED BY NAVAL CRAFT

London, Sept. 27.—The destruction of two submarines by naval craft is thus described: "The captain of a destroyer saw a German U-boat attack a merchant steamer two miles off. The destroyer went to the assistance of the steamer and the submarine dived."

"When I judged that we were directly over her, I let go a depth charge of water, a hundred feet high. The German submarine fastly disappeared. There was a lot of oil about and the smell of paraffine was in the air. One of the crew of the boat, I heard shouting in the water and picked up one man."

W.C.T.U. NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held in the parlour of the Methodist Church on Friday, Sept. 27th. Following the usual exercises, Mrs. Graves conducted the lesson in Canadian Civics in her usual able manner. This study which is being taken up by the W.C.T.U. is both interesting and instructive, and every lady of Red Deer should avail herself of this opportunity to learn more of the government of the country in which she lives. Mrs. F. W. Gies read the Prov. President's address. The work of the W.C.T.U. among foreigners was discussed at some length. The W.C.T.U. of Alberta, by their united efforts, are supporting a Social Service work among the Ruthenians. The worker, Miss Howard, is stationed at Slaty, near Lamont. The month called for to support this worker is 3c per week member, or $1.56 a year for each member throughout Alberta. If any person outside the Union should wish to help in this work, any contribution, however small, will be gladly received by the President, Mrs. McMillan. The great need of a worker of this sort can only be realized by those who are familiar with conditions there. The following extract from a letter by Mrs. Rush, Prov. Supt. of work among foreigners, will give some idea of the scope of the work:

"Well, our worker at Slaty has been busy too. Homes have been visited, a young people's club has been organized, and our community centre, though still in its initial stage, is an accomplished fact. A room has been added to the teacher's shack and groups of young people now gather there as a matter of course for talks on current topics, for a sing or friendly chat. These gatherings give our worker her best opportunity to teach these people lessons in good citizenship which are the purpose of her being there. As the evenings lengthen classes in English will be started, and one of the best young men in the district assured Miss Howard that every man in the neighborhood would be there. And not only every young man, but every young woman needs to be there as well, for instruction in the fundamentals of good Canadian citizenship. And Miss Howard is reaching after these young women. Just think of Canadians who cannot speak our language! And there are thousands of them here in Northern Alberta—and many of them born here. Some day Canada will wake up to see the menace such a condition of affairs is to our national life. Meanwhile, we, as W.C.T.U. women, can be glad that we are doing our little bit to help to right this wrong. It seems to me that there is no more patriotic work on earth than this, and I am sure that your Union will not fail to do your share of this task to which the Provincial organization has set its hand."

Our building has cost about $300, the salary of our worker $600 per year (it ought to be $1,000), but 3c per week per member will meet all our expenses—with a bit over for extras that in a live work are always cropping up.

Alberta has had financial disappointments this year—but there are worse enemies to Provincial prosperity than frost or drought or hail—which are things we cannot control and for which we are not responsible. An unassimilated, un-Canadian population is one of these enemies, and for the bartering of which we are responsible. As patriotic, Christian citizens, let us rise and cast it out. To this end, if you have not already done so, will you please send through your district treasurer, the balance of your allotment of 3c per week per member, so that the full amount will be in the hands of the Provincial Treasurer as this by the middle of September if possible. At the same time will you kindly send me word so that I may make up my report for the Provincial convention in good time.

Wishing each of you much prosperity in this and every department of our splendid work. Yours for a loyal and intelligent Canada.

MARTHA E. RUSH,
Prov. Supt. Work among Foreigners.

MAY SPEND $50,000,000 THIS YEAR

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—The allied nations are not figuring on an early ending of the war. They are making plans for munition manufacturing this coming year on a larger scale than ever. During the past twelve months the Imperial Munitions Board has spent on an average of $30,000,000 a month. There is every indication that during the coming year this volume of business will not only be maintained but even largely increased.

The total expenditure by the board might even run as high as $50,000,000. The heavy intensive fighting in progress at present requires a tremendous expenditure of shells. In addition to their shell business the Imperial Munitions Board has spent several millions in ship contracts.

The aeroplane industry has also developed into an enormous business, and 3,000 airships have been manufactured in the Toronto factory.

GERMANS NOW DETERMINED TO MAKE A STAND

ARE FRANTICALLY RUSHING UP REINFORCEMENTS TO BLOOM AMERICAN RUSH

With the Americans West of Verdun, Oct. 1.—The Germans are frantically rushing reinforcements into the Argonne region in an effort to block the American advance. The enemy apparently is determined to make a permanent stand on its present line, rather than fall back to Bruhlville-Stalling defences. Intense fighting continues with American infantry and artillery on the aggressive.

Heavy German counter-attacks are being delaying the American advance. Their infantry in attacking are armed almost wholly with light machine guns. Their artillery is increasingly active and is using great quantities of gas.

Where these counter-attacks occur, the doughboys retire from their outmost positions, giving our artillery an opportunity to break up the Boche formations and blast out their machine gun nests. Many of our field guns are so near the front lines that they are able to fire point blank at the enemy. The guns farther to the rear are employed for barrages, straining the enemy rear areas.

The weather turned colder and clearer over night, facilitating the fighting. Missouri and Pennsylvania troops encountered stiff fighting shortly after noon yesterday. The Germans threw in a fresh division from the Metz division in addition to the usual resistance.

OVERWHELMING NUMBERS

The Missourians, who were pushing over the crest of the hills south of Ezermont, ran into overwhelming numbers of the enemy, obliging them to withdraw their advance line slightly to enable the artillery to lay down a barrage.

In the meantime, the Pennsylvania line, in the Argonne, was operating attacks. The Boche, who were repelling their original positions. Bombing squadrons attacked

Grand Pre and Maroon successfully during the afternoon.

OPERATED VIRTUALLY ALONE

With the Americans West of Verdun, Sept. 30.—In heavy fighting throughout today, the infantry was forced to operate virtually alone because heavy rains prevented aerial observation for the artillery.

Toward evening, however, the weather suddenly cleared. Airplanes hurried over the German lines, signalling back to the gunners who cut loose in a way that indicated they were determined to make up for lost time. Bombing squadrons aided the artillery by showering explosives on enemy concentrations. At least half a dozen new Boche divisions have appeared in the fighting, including Guards, Bavarians, and Landwehr. The Pennsylvania and Missouri troops again bore the brunt of the counter attacks.

PROGRESS SLOW, BUT SURE

The miserable weather, the open nature of the fighting and the difficult terrain are calling up all the resourcefulness of the Americans. Regiments, battalions, companies and even platoons become separated in the rain and fog. Often the fighting is carried on by mere groups. Despite the bad ground, the tanks continue in adding to clean up machine gun nests. Progress is slow but sure. Patrols moving forward in the Brussels region report heavy machine gun defences being established along the Kreithelde and Stelling lines. It is obvious that the Germans intend to make a most desperate resistance in defense of their communications in this region.

TOWN FOR TOWN, ENGLAND'S CRY FOR REPARATION

Members of Parliament Prepare List of German Cities to be Destroyed.

LONDONERS CALM IN FACE OF NEWS OF GREAT VICTORIES COMING FROM FRONT.

London, Oct. 3.—Members of parliament have prepared a schedule of German towns with comparable French and Belgian towns to be sent to the German supreme command with the intimation that the wanton and cruel destruction such as is now proceeding at Cambrai, will be a certain prelude to similar destruction of German centres by Allied aircraft and other means. Mayence, Cologne and Coblenz must pay for Cambrai. St. Quentin, Lille and Bruges.

Canadian soldiers in London "on leave" tell me the corps would be deeply infuriated by deliberate German firing of Cambrai. The enemy had hoped to entrap the Canadian troops when passing through the mined city. Fortunately it was our discovery of this devilish design which led to the enveloping tactics. Instead of a direct frontal attack, hence the series of battles fought by the Canadians to the north and the British to the south of Cambrai. The enveloping movement having succeeded and the enemy's calculations miscarried, he set fire to the town.

LOOK WITH ANGER ON WORK

Dispatches from the front say the British who took so many precautions to save Cambrai, look with anger at the impious work of the Germans. The Canadian corps fully share this anger which echoes with vengeance the growing British demand of town for town. Even today the Times lends its influence to this call for reparation.

The Defence of the Realm Act forbids newspaper posters such as used to carry flaming lines through London streets on momentous occasions, but yesterday afternoon newspapers chattered on sidewalks at their feet such lines as: "Cambrai Liberated," "Canadian and British Attacks," "Boche's Pincers Closing."

HIG EVENTS PENDING

Everyone feels that we are on the eve of big events which will change the whole aspect of the world for generations, yet I never saw Londoners calmer. "Splendid news," says one Londoner to another, and goes smiling about his business. Paris today is abounding with joy over the fall of St. Quentin. London shows no sign of emotion over the hardly less important fall of Cambrai and the occupation of Damascus. If Berlin had one-fiftieth part of the successful news, bells would be clanging from every steep. I have not heard the London church bells for months. The heroism of the Canadians in the teeth of an unparalleled concentration of deadly enemy machine guns is everywhere remarked upon. Gen. Currie's proud yet sad declaration when visiting London last June is recalled, "I know the Canadian corps is going to die. There is no position, however strong, Canada would allow to be taken that they did not take, but the British Empire must be saved."

TO COVER RETREAT.

Military experts find special significance Germany's tactics based on Cambrai. Canadians know it must go eventually, but their resistance has been most formidable. Why? Probably in order to gain time to cover a retreat on a large scale. Now that St. Quentin is gone, Cambrai is doomed. The line of retreat in the Oise valley is threatened and far-reaching changes all along the all-important massif of St. Go. In a fair way of being turned where will the enemy stop? Misty weather may help him to escape without final disaster, as in 1916, but if given fairly good days and nights, the Allies may anticipate momentous and far-reaching changes all along the enormous western front.

"RULE BRITANNIA" IN GERMAN PRISON

HON. DR. BELAND TELLS HOW SCOTSMAN CELEBRATED NEW YEAR'S DAY

On returning home from his prison home in Germany, Hon. Dr. Beland told one prison incident on New Year's eve, in 1916, he was making his rounds as jail surgeon and came to the cell of a stalwart Scotch veteran, who always spoke with "the accent of the heather." As he turned away, the Scot—his name was Kirkpatrick—whispered to him: "It's possible I'll be celebrating the New Year a wee bit when it comes."

Dr. Beland pleaded for further facts, for he thought the Scot planned an escape, which by faked night and result fatally, as the prison was especially vigilant. But he said he was a man of mystery. It was a half a billion dollars, and the organizers are confident of making this mark. The terms of the loan have not yet been made public, but it is expected will be similar to the last loan. A strong campaign organization has now been completed. Sir Thomas leaves for the west tomorrow night.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 9th, 1918

"The Alberta (Calgary) cannot understand why the government was not content to permit a man with this principles and ideal and unquestioned ability of Mr. Galbraith to go unopposed. It could rest assured that he would support progressive legislation, and that when the people passed any measure that it would be 'well to give it further consideration.'"

THE RED DEER BY-ELECTION

The Edmonton Journal on Saturday had the following comment on the Red Deer election:

"Voting is to take place in Red Deer on October 23. This provincial constituency has been vacant since early in the year when Mr. Michener the former member was appointed to the senate."

The government's delay in issuing the writ can only be explained by the methods which it has adopted with the object of bringing about the defeat of Mr. Galbraith. Since the two candidates were placed in the field it has had its agents constantly in the constituency and the idea is to counteract by this still hunt the broad appeal of the nominee of a non-party convention.

Mr. Galbraith fought the cause of Liberalism both in Ontario and Alberta for many years. When the Dominion contest came on in 1917, however, he supported Dr. Clark and the Union government, as did probably the majority of oldtime Liberals in the riding, judging by the size of the doctor's majority.

This was sufficient to exclude him and others from the party gathering summoned by Mr. Boyle, now attorney general, for the purpose of making arrangements for the present provincial contest. Following this Mr. Galbraith was nominated by a non-party convention and Mr. Gaetz by one which was organized along the strictest machine lines.

Mr. Galbraith is not in the field with the object of introducing provincial affairs, as has been charged. He is standing simply as a protest against the ideas of bile-bound partisanship which have been prevalent in the past and to which the provincial administration evidently proposes to adhere.

If he is elected he proposed to sit on the cross benches in the legislature with the soldier and other non-party representatives. With his experience of public affairs, with his broad viewpoint and with his entire freedom from party trammels, he will be able to do both his constituency and the province at large the greatest service.

Red Deer can do itself much honor by electing him on October 23. It is hard to believe that the electors will defeat a man who offers himself under these circumstances and choose instead a candidate whose only qualification is that he stands in with the powers that be and is willing to do their bidding in all things.

IF—

If you want to see this constituency dominated by machine politics—the most destructive force in our political life.

If you want a candidate to represent you who at the crack of the party whip turned a complete somersault on the vital dominating issue of the Dominion election—

If you want a candidate to represent you to whom party means more than sending reinforcements to the Boys at the front—

If you want a candidate to represent you who is bound to support the machine instead of a candidate who is bound to no party, no faction—only to the service of the people of this constituency—

If you want a candidate who was put into the field mainly by the private telephone interests in this constituency and a candidate who is bound to support that interest—

If you want a candidate who will stand for private telephone monopoly in this constituency—the only constituency so burdened in the province—

If you want to see this constituency continuously penalized in telephone service—

If you are a farmer who resides close to Red Deer and want to continue to pay a toll every time you happen to be in town and want to talk to the people at home—

If you are a citizen or merchant of Red Deer and wish to continue to be deprived of your proper free communication with your country friends and customers—

If you want to line up with men who boast that they will have nothing to do with men who dared to support the union cause in December—

If you want to see this constituency run by a few Edmonton politicians and a few Red Deer anti-unionists—

If you want Bill Coote and John McLeeman to run your political affairs—then you will line up with the bound candidate of the machine.

BUT IF—

If you want a candidate who is bound to no party, no faction, only to the service of the people of this constituency—

If you want a candidate who will give sympathetic support to the members of the government and of their following who are fighting for broad, clean, economical business administration—

If you want a candidate who fought for women's rights to suffrage even in the days when some people considered it a fad—

If you want a candidate who has been active in farmers' co-operative organizations for years—

If you want a candidate who, while keeping step pretty well with the main body of his fellow citizens in practice, is radical and progressive in his thinking, and has advocated most of the advanced big measures of this day long before they were put on the statute book—

If you want a candidate who has shown himself not afraid to stand alone in support of his views when he deemed the occasion demanded it.

If you want a candidate who has filled the highest 35-40 open to him in Red Deer and the province, and has made good in all of them—

If you want a man held in respect and honor all over the province—

If you want a man who will be the fair equal in ability and service with the leaders in the legislature—

Give Galbraith his chance.

THE ALBERTAN SAYS WE ARE UNFAIR.

The News is shocked at the depravity displayed by the Alberta writer. That party charges this great moral weekly with not only being unfair, but goes further and states we are making dishonest charges against the government.

The Alberta further charges how very and and hurt the government feels over the supposed wickedness on our part.

As a matter of fact we never said government officials were on a still hunt in this constituency, and we cannot understand how the Alberta can for a single moment associate those pure-minded innocent government officials with every dark lantern brigade and still hunt crowd that visits a constituency.

The Alberta has put up a straw man and is punching it to its own satisfaction. If it derives any great pleasure from the experience it is welcome to all it can get.

The Alberta said the visit of the official from the Educational department was before any candidates were nominated. The Alberta is not related to the late lamented George Washington anyway.

Mr. Galbraith was nominated on March 21st, and the official in question was here at Mr. Gaetz's nomination on the 11th of April.

We have never before seen the Alberta so badly tangled up, for we are forced to forgive it much, for has it not said that it could not see any sense in the government bringing out a man in opposition to Mr. Galbraith?

AFTER THE REPTILES

An American paper describes the Allied expedition to Russia as "the business of killing snakes." It views the brutal crime committed at the British embassy at Petrograd as the emblem of Bolshevism. It regards Trotsky, Lenin, and their fellow-reptiles as a nest of demoralized reptiles operating as a German adjunct.

The job is under way, says the Toronto Globe in commenting upon this utterance. The Allied expedition that has advanced more than one hundred miles south from Archangel is numerically insignificant compared with the immense armies fighting in Western Europe. Yet these forces steadily advance.

The Bolsheviks are running for dear life. In Asia a more impressive expedition is operating, and the Japanese have won several pitched battles. A Chinese force on the border of Mongolia has killed some Bolsheviks as drifted in that direction. The smother of land east of Lake Balkal, where Red Bolshevikism made a blot on the map, is largely cleared. And here and there and everywhere are the busy Czechoslovak, removing Bolsheviks with great cheerfulness.

The snakes are slinking away. The murderers were eager to outdo the Germans in every form of atrocity have no stomach for fighting British, or American, or Japanese, or Czechoslovak. The cleanup, which a month or two ago seemed Herculean task, daily appears easier.

The Germans, smashed and battered by the forces of God, have no men to send to the aid of their sanguinary servants in Russia. The Bolsheviks, left to their own devices, are as cowardly and despicable as the snakes they once despised.

The rehabilitation of Russia into a strong and stable state may be a work of years, but the preliminary task of clearing the country of the snakes which infest it should not take long.

When the Boys come home there will be a day of reckoning. Where are you going to be? With those who stood behind the Boys or with those who didn't?

For the benefit of the Calgary Alberta we might say that Hon. J. R. Boyle was in the City on Saturday, presumably in connection with the election, which was announced that day.

Premier Stewart started the campaign by an address in the Parish Hall last evening in favor of the straight Liberal candidate, J. J. Gaetz. As the News goes to press

Tuesday evening a report of his remarks will have to stand over to next week.

In the fifth year of the greatest war in all history, Canada exhibits more indications of prosperity than ever in her history in spite of the prodigious efforts she has put forth, was the statement made by Sir. Thomas White, in an address at the 15th anniversary of the Red Deer newspaper editors and proprietors of the province.

Across the line, where they are doing great things, these days, the machine politicians are getting mighty short shrift. The big issue is the candidates' record. When the votes are counted on Monday, Oct. 28th, it will be the same here.

The election in the Red Deer constituency is in full blast and polling will take place two weeks from next Monday, Oct. 28th. It is now up to the electors to say whether they will elect a man to represent the people or a man to represent the machine. It is up to the people themselves, and we do not fear the verdict.

The machine politicians will find that the voters in this constituency are men and women who are awake to their high duty; while their sons are fighting in France or are in the training camps, those who are left on guard at home, whose duty it is to choose strong, able, independent, patriotic men and women for places of public trust and authority, are going to make their influence felt on election day.

It may not be generally known, but nevertheless it is a fact, that the Red Deer constituency, since Alberta became a province, has never elected a straight party man the first time he ran, in its history John T. Moore was elected as an independent in 1905, and was defeated as a straight party man by E. Michener, who ran as an independent. Mr. Michener held his seat as a party man afterwards by narrow majorities. Now again two new men are out for legislative honors, an independent and a straight party man. It should not be hard to choose between them. The Calgary Alberta said it could not understand why the government could not be allowed a man of Mr. Galbraith's calibre to go unopposed.

This is a sentence in the official report of General Allenby's Palestine operations:

On the north our cavalry, traversing the field of Armageddon, had occupied Nazareth.

Few words have been more frequently used in writing of the war than "Armageddon." Now the war has moved to the actual place which gave its name to what is now to be the final struggle between good and evil. The plain lies to the south west of Nazareth, and was the scene of many battles—of the defeat of the Canaanites by Barak, of the battles by Joshua of the Israelites by the Philistines and of Josiah by the Egyptians. Its associations were such that the reference to it in the sixteenth chapter of Revelations, which has led to its modern use, was not unnatural—Edmonton Journal.

MEETING COL. PAGE ON THE LINE

Lieut. H. A. Sharpe, 21st Reserve (Canadian) Trenchard, Hants, Eng., writes August 31, to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stewart, Red Deer, Mr. Sharpe belongs to Calgary, where he enlisted, but is now serving under Col. Page. He says:

"No doubt the above address will be a little surprise to you and you will wonder how long I have been in England."

"Well, dear friend, I met May my Colonel recommended me for a commission and on the 14th May I left France to take a three-months officers training course in England. I completed the course and returned to France a better man never went to France. I was quite surprised to be asked to take a commission, and now I have got it I only hope I won't disappoint him."

"There is very little news I can send you, and as for war news, I expect you get all that through the newspapers. In fact, we know very little more about the way things are going ourselves than what we see in papers."

"The last few weeks we have been giving the Hun a hot time. I feel sure he will get more yet before long. I hope we can give him such a smash as will make him will sue for peace before spring."

Mr. J. H. Woods, managing director and editor of the Calgary Herald, writes the Advocate editor, September 30, as follows:

"Dear Galbraith: France during our recent trip were 'Among the people that I met in Capt. Ross, of the Motor Transport Service, and Col. Page, of the 56th, both of whom asked me to remember them to you. I met Col. Page in his dugout right below the front line trenches of the 56th, and Capt. Ross very kindly paraded a company of transport for us at his headquarters. They were both looking well and feeling cheerful."

"With kind regards,
"Yours very truly,
"J. H. WOODS."

"My friend," said a long visaged stranger to Jack Fulton the other day, "to what end has your life's work been directed? Jack was taken aback for a moment, and finally for a moment, as he replied with a bland smile, "both ends. You see I have the boss hat and shoe store of this enlightened burg."

DIRECTIONS FOR USING Wash-Out Without Rubbing

Cut into a boiler of water a half cake of Laundry Soap, and add one heaping tablespoonful of WASH-OUT. When the water is hot, but not before, immerse your dry white clothes. Let the water boil freely through them for 15 minutes. Take out, rinse well, and hang out. If you use a washing machine it is not necessary to boil. Just run the clothes through the machine with the half bar of soap and Wash-Out. Quick, Economical, and Easy, isn't it? 16 Washings, 25c. Ask your Grocer

RUB IT IN FOR LAME BACK.

A brisk rubbing with Prof. Parker's Eucalypti Rubbing Oil will cure lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the oil sinks in the pain comes out and there are ample grounds for saying that its touch is magical, as it is—Prof. Parker, 66, Second Street, South.

SMASH IT!

Everybody can enlist in the coming fight in the Red Deer Provincial bye-election.

The candidature of Mr. Galbraith in the Red Deer bye-election as the Union and Independent candidate means—

A fight against anti-Union control of the Provincial government and its party organization.

A fight against anti-Union tyranny in the local politics of Red Deer.

A fight for greater independence, greater freedom, for the member and the voter.

A fight against broad party methods, against party election machinery, against dragging out the bye-election for months to suit party convenience.

A fight for fair play in politics.

A fight for better social and economic conditions when the soldiers return from the front.

A fight for clean, straight, independent service from an independent candidate.

Our boys are fighting to make better conditions, cleaner conditions, freer conditions, more democratic conditions, for all the nations. Cannot we do a little fighting to make better conditions, cleaner conditions, freer conditions, more democratic conditions in politics for them at home? Or do you prefer to be a political slacker, or a fly on the party wheel?

This is no time for neutrality. It is no time to stay in the political trenches. Let us "stand-to" and when the opportunity offers go right over the top and take a mighty swat at the political machine—smash it.

"It Pays to Pay Cash"

The W. E. LORD CO. LTD. RED DEER, ALBERTA. AT LORDS.

For many years, LORD'S STORE HAS STOOD, with its high-grade merchandise, BETWEEN ITS CUSTOMERS AND HIGH PRICES. Particularly careful merchandising, buying and selling for cash, increased efficiency in service, an intimate knowledge of the requirements of our customers, and an intensely keen interest in the welfare of our customers and our staff, as well as a watchful eye on the success of the Store, are a few of the features of the Store which make it just a little different.

Computed from the lowest buying cash price, and the margin of profit based on the cost of doing business economically, our prices represent the best values obtainable.

THIS STORE HAS NEVER BEEN UNDERSOLD. In making this statement we do not contend that there was never a similar article priced at less in a competing store. (Errors are occasionally made in marking goods). But, nevertheless, that "It Pays to Pay Cash" at Lords is an undisputed fact which will continue to the end.

This applies equally in Hardware, Dry Goods, Shoes, Ready-to-Wear Garments, Clothing, Millinery or Groceries, each a separate Store under independent local management, and yet each a unit in the larger organization that enables us to operate more economically, and yet more efficiently.

We don't have to educate the public to present prices. They realize that our advances are quite a little behind the general advances in the market, and they appreciate that we try to make their dollar go further, increasing its purchasing power, by holding down the prices.

"And it came to pass, when the evil spirit from God was upon Saul, that David took the harp and played with his hand: so Saul was refreshed and was well, and the evil spirit departed from him."—1 Sam. 16:16.

It is very evident that the incident here recorded was written at an early period in Israel's history, since the writer completely ignores the idea of a personal devil, and unmistakably ascribes the malady with which Saul was afflicted to Divine agency.

At an early period in the religious development of Israel, natural events were ascribed to Jehovah, the national God. If it rained, they would say "Jehovah rains," and the idea of Divine intervention in nature presented to a primitive people none of the difficulties which suggest themselves to the modern mind.

If this fact were borne in mind, that the literature of the Bible should be studied in the light of the age in which it was produced, very many of the difficulties of interpretation would be solved.

We are reminded in this passage of the marvellous effect which music has upon the mind of man, and the very important part it has played in the religious development of mankind.

Probably of all the arts which man has acquired, and by which he has learned to express the mysteries of his spiritual being, none is capable of such a wide range as that of music. Even the brute creation responds to the harmony of sound. "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast," and the soul of the most enlightened responds with joy to its mysterious sway. So, by his skill on the harp, David charmed the evil spirit from King Saul and restored the mind of the monarch to sanity and peace.

Instead of a sermon on the relation of Music and Religion, or to the science of mental healing, we desire to call the attention of our readers to a poem by Robert Browning suggested by this incident. A thoughtful reader of "Saul" will indicate how the Word of God—the Bible—may be enriched and beautified when touched by the quickening imagination and spiritual appreciation of a richly gifted and deeply religious personality.

David has been summoned to play for the king, who, for three days has silently agonized, "drear and stark blind and dumb" in the silence and darkness of the royal tent. Fearfully, the young minstrel enters the tent and tunes his harp to play, that by his music he may awaken memory and rouse the soul of Saul from its lethargy.

First he plays the tunes which the sheep know and those which awaken a responsive chord in beast and bird—then "the help-tunes of the reapers, their wine songs, when hand answers hand, eye lights eye in good friendship, and great hearts expand and glow one in the sense of this world's life."

The interest deepens as the musician expresses the common joys and sorrows of mankind, but only when he gives utterance to the music of religious worship does Saul give any evidence of life.

The glory of human life is depicted—the spirit of optimism exalts. How good is man's life, the mere living! How fit to employ all the heart and the soul and the senses forever in joy! The growing ambition of the king and the glorious deeds which surpass fame are used by the singer to kindle a new interest in the mind of the king. Saul is now wide awake, but not comforted, and the next song shows that the greatness of Saul does not lie in his mortal life, but in the far-reaching influence of his great deeds. The hostility reaches as the soul and restores the mind of the king to its former glory to the manhood which was his—"ere error had lent the broad brow from daily communion."

Saul bends to cherish David, and as he does so, the heart of the minstrel goes out to him. He longs to bestow upon him a life that will eternally endure—had love but the warrant, loves heart to display and the love of God, but rather interprets it. David realizes at last that all the effort he has put forth to save Saul from falling, and to restore him to new light and a new life has been prompted by the constraining love of God.

Man's power to believe, his unquenchable hope, his unflinching devotion, is due to the Power greater than his own which makes for righteousness.

The greatness of man lies not in his present attainments, but in the unrealized aspirations of his soul. "The not what man does, but what he is, that counts." The faith of Divine Love is expressed in terms of human life. With prophetic insight he discovers that God is most truly God when He becomes incarnate in the Christ. The Word made flesh reaches with saving grace the depths of human need. "Tis the weakness in strength that I cry for. My flesh that I seek in the Godhead; I seek and I find it. O Saul, it shall be a Face like my face that receives thee! A Man like to me thou shalt love and be loved by forever: A Hand like this hand shall throw open the gates of new life to thee! See the Christ!"

The space at our disposal prevents one from enlarging upon the wonderfully suggestive ideas contained in this splendid poem. One also feels that the attempt to analyze such a masterpiece is rather presumptuous. But, if, through the reading of this, any are led to read for themselves this intensely spiritual interpretation of an Old Testament story, our effort shall not have been in vain, and the reader will surely be refreshed by the beauty and spiritual power of this wonderful song.

Listening to the music of this model minstrel, we too shall have our souls refreshed; our troubled spirits soothed to sanity, and the spirit of evil banished from our minds.

In front of us threatened disaster. As the wheels touched the plow ground at about seventy miles per hour, my pilot tried again to swing the machine round to the left to prevent a collision with the helicopter. The left wheel buried itself completely while the machine swung completely round with startling suddenness, tipped the nose into the earth, and turned a complete somersault.

The sudden impact threw me clear from my nacelle in front, almost without my realizing it, and while I lay on the ground I heard with terrifying distinctness, "Gee-rump!" as the machine turned over and settled on its back. I certainly lay out from the tail pieces, minus one flying boot, which was still in the nacelle, and walked round the wreckage with my head in my hand. To my great surprise, and relief he coolly crouched from his inverted "office" absolutely unhurt. We made for the farmhouse nearby, and when last we succeeded in finding an entrance, a startled voice from an upwind corner enquired who we were. Apparently the farmer, and I had heard the crash and imagined that it was the sound of a bursting bomb from a Zeppelin. Upon learning the true state of affairs they made us very welcome, and in a very short time we were slipping hot coffee before a roaring fire.

Not for many days shall I forget the gratitude and thankfulness in the old lady's voice as she patted us kindly on the back and said, "Thank God you are both safe."

HE MUST BE ENJOYING LIFE.

"Doctor, you told my husband to get the fresh air."

"Yes, he should remain out a good part of the day."

"He does that. But kin he get the fresh air with a pipe in his mouth all the time?"

THE BEAVER HUT FOR THE BOYS

A bed, including bath, towel, soap and kit storage in London costs the Canadian Tommy 18c—that is if he goes to the new Canadian Y.M.C.A. "Beaver Hut" in the Strand. A meal costs him the same with the strains of an orchestra thrown in.

Needless to relate our boys overseas are "not to death" with the new metropolitan centre. Costing $100,000 and situated in the most famous thoroughfare in the Empire, the Beaver Hut is run primarily by Canadians for Canadians, although its hospitality is free to all the men of the Allied forces visiting London on leave. The hut is composed of 200 ladies, superintended by Miss Helen Fitzgerald of Fredericton, N.B., attend to the preparation and service of meals. Dormitories with nearly 200 beds, are under the same efficient care, and the ladies work in four hour shifts, maintaining a twenty-four hour service. No matter what hour a tired and hungry Canadian soldier arrives in London, he finds an open door, a smiling welcome, and a hot meal at the "Beaver Hut."

After a warm bath, refreshing sleep, breakfast, haircut, shave, and shoes—all included in the cost, the soldier feels like a new man. He has packed up his troubles in his old kit bag and has placed the same in the hands of the clerk at the Kit storage. It only remains for him to look in at the information board on the second floor and select one of the many suggestions to be found there for the spending of his leave. He can then set off to enjoy the beauties and hospitality of the Old Country until his time is up, and he must return, reinvigorated, to the trenches.

Such an institution as the "Beaver Hut" cannot fail to render a great service to our Canadian boys over there. It provides a shelter from a counter-attraction to the many undesirable elements that seek to prey on their loneliness.

PROVINCIAL HAIL INSURANCE

The Hail Insurance District of Alberta has now been in operation for five years. The District comprises 25 municipal districts and embraces a total area of somewhat over four and a half million acres.

The losses payable by the Hail Insurance Board for damage by hail throughout the Hail Insurance District during the past season were in round numbers $150,000. The revenue required to pay these losses is derived from two sources, first, the flat rate of 5c. per acre on all the assessable land in the Hail Insurance District. This flat rate is fixed by the law at 5c. per acre and was levied during the spring of this year. The balance required is obtained by a levy of a rate per acre on all the land under crop during the season. This rate was fixed on October 1st by the Hail Insurance Board at 8c. per acre.

The losses of this year were the lowest of any of the five years since the Hail Insurance District was formed. The losses for the five years are as follows:—

1914	151,173
1915	358,469
1916	655,997
1917	468,897
1918	158,122

As stated above, the plan has been in operation now for five years. Naturally, it was very much in the nature of an experiment, but the results have justified the experiment. During the five years, the total amount of insurance carried was over $250,000. The total losses paid for the five years were $176,000. The costs of administration were about $100,000. The total cost of carrying the $250,000 insurance was, therefore, about $186,000. The cost of insurance under the plan this year was a little over three per cent, and the average cost for the five years was a little over 5 1/2%.

There are some features of the plan under which the present District is working that are not as satisfactory as they might be, and it is probable that the present Hail Insurance District will be reorganized some time next year. At the next municipal elections the new plan of municipal hail insurance as provided by the Hail Insurance Act passed at the last session of the Legislature will be submitted to the ratepayers of the municipal districts, and if the plan is approved by 45 of these municipal districts, a new Hail Insurance District will be formed to work under the new Act. It is believed that the new plan has all the features of a permanent organization to the old plan. The plan has been approved by the annual convention of the U.P.A. and the Alberta Farmers' Local Union, and the next municipal districts and Rural Municipalities, and it is believed it will commend itself to the farmers of the Province.

There are two radical changes proposed in the new Act, one is that all the revenue required will be levied on the crop area only, so that the cost will fall entirely on those who receive the benefit. The other is that the farmer may insure his crop for either 8c. or 10c. per acre, or he may, if he desires, withdraw any part or all of his crop from the operation of the Act entirely. This is considered to be a very important feature of the plan, which is one of the greatest objections urged against the present Act.

If the new plan is approved and a new Hail Insurance District is formed the head offices will be moved to Calgary.

UNIVERSITY NOTES

Monday, September 30th is registration day at the University of Alberta. On that day time-tables will be available and rooms allotted to resident students. Lectures will begin on the morning of Tuesday, October 1.

To date seventy registrations have passed through the Registrar's hands and cards of admission to students have been issued. The registration in Medicine is somewhat larger than in former years. Three or four students are taking the first year's work in Dentistry, which will be offered in conjunction with the medical course. In the other faculties the registration promises to be somewhat smaller than in previous years, with a larger percentage of women.

The new term opens with the addition of several members to the staff. Miss Isabel Patrick, Honours graduate of the Department of Household Science of the University of Toronto, will take charge of the new courses being offered in Household Science. In this subject two degrees will be offered, that of B.A. in Household Economics which will be open to all matriculants, and that of B.Sc. in Household Economics, open only to graduates of the provincial schools of agriculture. Considerable interest is being shown in the inception of this work.

In the department of physics, Miss L. A. Smith, Honours graduate of McGill University, has been appointed assistant to Dr. Hammond. It is worthy of note that the whole staff of the physics department as it existed before the war, is now engaged in military service. Mr. Boyle is carrying on research work with the British Admiralty. Mr. Smith is doing research work in the Aviation department of the British army, and Captain McLeod is with the British artillery in France.

To replace assistant professor Burt in the department of history, Mr. M. H. Long has been appointed. Mr. Long is an Honours graduate of McGill University, was subsequently a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, and an Honours graduate in History of that institution. He has been for some years headmaster of the Victoria High School of Edmonton and is widely known as a well-trained and ambitious student of history.

Miss Christine Fabb has been appointed to take charge of the physical education of women during the coming year. Miss Fabb is a graduate of Chelsea Physical Training College, London and has had wide experience in the work in England and Canada. It is hoped that this appointment will lead to great improvement in the physical condition of women students. Miss Fabb will work in association with the director of medical service.

The correspondence department newly established at the University has been taken over from the Institute of Technology and Art, Calgary. This department will conduct correspondence courses for teachers in the provinces holding a second class certificate and ambitious to secure academic qualifications of the first class qualifications. The staff consists of Miss M. J. Bratton, formerly principal of Ottawa Ladies' College, Miss M. McCaig, B.A., McGill, and Miss Annie Norrington, B.Sc., Manitoba. The direction of this work is in the hands of Mr. D. S. McKenzie.

Owing to the need for more space partitions are being erected at the north and south ends of the two main corridors. In addition a good start has been made in levelling and seeding down the ground in the front of the main Arts building. The greatly improved appearance of the grounds, where already the new grass is beginning to show.

During the summer many additions have been made to the Library of the department of extension, and also the supply of lantern slides and films for the moving picture machines. These are now being prepared for circulation and it is hoped that the people of the province, especially in the more remote areas, will avail themselves of the opportunity which this department of the University offers.

SEPARATE SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and enclosed "Tender for Service Building, Military Hospital Building, Calgary (Sawee)," etc. as the case may be, must be received by the undersigned on Tuesday, October 15, 1918, for the construction of Service Building, Surgical Ward, and the new building, Wards, Administration Building and Convalescent Ward, Military Hospital, Calgary.

Plans and Specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at the office of the Chief Architect, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, the resident Architect, Calgary, Alberta, and the Superintendent of Military Hospitals, Beveridge Bldg., Calgary.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with the conditions set forth therein. Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque for a sum payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender. War Bonds or cheques of the Dominion Government may be accepted in lieu of war bonds and cheques if required to make up an odd amount.

By order,
R. C. DESROCHERS,
Secretary,
Department of Public Works,

An Advertisement by Charles Dickens

CHARLES DICKENS is one of the world's great teachers. Here is what he has to say in one of his books:

"My other piece of advice, Copperfield," said Mr. Micawber, "you know. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £10 10 6—result, happiness. Annual income £20, annual expenditure £20 0 6—result, misery. The blossom is blighted, the leaf is withered, the God of Day goes down upon the dreary scene, and—in short, you are forever flooded. As I am."

The saving of a part of one's income was always a good policy.

Prudent men and women have always maintained a margin of saving.

But to-day we must go farther in our efforts to save than ever before.

To-day it is a matter of the gravest importance that each Canadian seek ways and means to economize by cutting down expenditures for unnecessary things, saving the money he spends on things he could do without, so that when the Nation needs to borrow money he will be in a position to do his full duty.

There is war-shortening work waiting for every dollar that can be saved.

If Charles Dickens were writing to Canadians to-day he would probably give us advice to this effect:

"My other piece of advice, Canadians, you know. No matter what percentage of your annual income you have previously saved, your efforts to-day should be to save more. The advantage of so doing is twofold. By the practice of economy you conserve the Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender. War Bonds or cheques of the Dominion Government may be accepted in lieu of war bonds and cheques if required to make up an odd amount."
